THANKSGIVING GAME

TEAM OF COAST ARTILLERY BOYS DEFEAT GLENDALE UNION HIGH SCHOOL

Nearly 2000 Glendale people were yesterday given a treat of seeing a real football game, the right kind of football, a good clean game with no rough or dirty playing by either side. Both teams at all times played with the best of sportsmanship.

Yesterday's game ended Glendale High School's first season of football. Although the High School team was playing older and heavier boys, they put up a splendid gave, outplaying the soldiers the first half and holding them nearly even in the second. Both teams were exceptionally good at carrying the ball, as the soldiers would go through the Glendale line time after time for a gain of 5 to 10 yards, while the Glendale boys were able to go around end for a good substantial gain nearly every time.

The soldiers won the toss and chose to receive. Wieman kicked off for Glendale and the game was on. The soldiers were downed on their 30-yard line. They made several long gains through the line, then tried a forward pass that was pulled down by Fansett, Glendale halfback. Glendale was then held and forced to kick, the soldiers fumbling and Glendale falling on the ball. Glendale then carried the ball within 2 yards of the soldiers' goal line, but were unable to carry the ball over. The soldiers' kick was blocked, a soldier falling on the ball back of his own goal. This gave Glendale a safety. Score, Glendale 2, Soldiers 0.

In the 2nd period of play, Harvey, the fast soldier half was able to circle the Glendale end for a 50-yard run to touch-down. The soldiers failed to kick goal. Score, Glendale 2, Soldiers 6. Glendale received and carried the ball within 4 yards of the soldier goal when they were kept from scoring by the end of the period being called.

The intermission between halves was made long enough for the soldiers to give an exhibition drill. Probably half of the people present were there only to see the home boys drill, yesterday probably being the only chance that Glendale will ever have of seeing them drill at home.

The third period started out by Glendale receiving and circling an end then the other for long gains. On the soldiers' 40-yard line Glendale fumbled, Barager of the soldiers picking up the ball and running 60 yards through a clear field for a touchdown. The soldiers failed to kick goal. Score, Glendale 2, Soldiers 12. The rest of the period was about evenly divided.

In the fourth period Glendale carried the ball within striking distance of the soldiers' goal but were unable to get away for a touch-down. Wieman dropped back and drop-kicked the ball over from the soldiers' 25 yard line. Score, Glendale 5, Soldiers 12.

The soldiers received and carried the ball down the field within ten yards of the Glendale goal when they fumbled, Tummell of Glendale getting the ball and nearly getting free for a long run. The game ended with Glendale having the ball on their own 40-yard line.

Final score, Glendale 5, Soldiers 12.

"HUN" GOODE WRITES

IS AT HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., ON HIS WAY TO GET THE KAISER'S GOAT

Jack Wagnon is in recipt of a letter from Donald Goode that will be of interest to "Hun's" many friends in Glendale. He writes from Hempstead, N. Y., under date of November 23, as follows:

"Dear Jack: Well, we are a long way from dear old Glendale and the sunny California weather. At present it looks as if we will keep on going.

"We left Camp Lewis on the second and arrived here on the fifth. This camp doesn't compare with Camp Lewis. Here we have to sleep in tents without any floors, use candles for lights, no hot water in the camp. We line up and get our eats in mess kits and then sit on the ground and have our big feed.

"They are sure breaking us in to roughing it so we can stand anything when we get after the Kaiser's goat. It sure is cold here. It feezes every night and we have already had much snow. We are in the ambulance company with the North Dakota National Guards. I don't know whether we will stay with them or not.

I am in the little town of Hempstead which is about two miles from our camp and we are allowed to come here any time outside of drill hours, so we come down here most every night. We are about twenty miles from New York City but we haven't been in to see the bright lights for the simple reason that we haven't had a pay day lately, but believe we get a pay day at the end of this month and then there will be some boys from Glendale, California, stepping down old Broadway. When we came in here on the train we went under the city through the subway and under the Hudson and East rivers. We have been through fifteen states and have traveled a distance of about five thousand miles.

"Things are very secret here now. Troops are going to France all of the time and we can't tell when our turn will come. I am writing from one of the Y. M. C. A. headquarters and I want to say that you can't realize the good that the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of the soldier boys in all of the camps. They are providing places of comfort for the boys everywhere. If it wasn't for the good that organization is doing I don't know what the soldier boys would do. There is always plenty of good reading and writing material and much music to cheer us up in the Y. M. C. A.

"Tell all of my old friends 'hello' and that we are on our way to Berlin.

"Your friend,
"'HUN' GOODE."

MR. AND MRS. LEARNED ENTERTAIN AT BURBANK RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Learned entertained their friends at their ranch in Burbank. The usual New England Thanksgiving dinner was served under a large sycamore tree.

On the menu were strawberries picked from the vines that morning, some of which measured 5½ inches in circumference and 3½ inches in length; also fresh raspberries. These would look rather strange to our Eastern friends.

The ladies spent the day in Red Cross knitting, the gentlemen in viewing the ranch and climbing the hills.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Learned, Miss E. J. Learned, Miss L. V. Learned, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Adams, of Glendale; Mrs. Trask, Mr. and Mrs. George Eyre, Miss Ruth Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Laubach, Miss Lois Miller, Mr. Lindsay Miller, Miss Marion Adams, of Los Angeles; Miss Mary E. Learned, of Pomona; Mrs. A. Leavitt, Miss Doris Leavitt, of Battle Creek, Mich.; Mr. W. J. Adams, Miss Flora Adams, Mr. W. D. Learned, Mr. Willard F. Learned, Miss Edith S. Learned, and Hastard Hasest, of Burbank.

WHY WE ARE THANKFUL

Francis W. Read of the A-8 grade of the Intermediate school grows patriotic in writing a Thanksgiving theme. He says:

"We are thankful that we are living in a nation where we are safe from all the horrors of this war; that we have food and clothing when we are hungry and cold; that our land —America—is not ruled by the iron hand of autocracy, but rather by the better system, Democracy; that the United States has had occasion to take up arms against tyrants who are plotting and planning to destroy the freedom of the civilized world; and that our nation, the great United States of America, will supply all our needs through this great war."

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

CHURCHES OF GLENDALE UNITE IN SERVICE OF PRAISE THURSDAY MORNING

The Protestant churches of Glendale and Tropico held a union Thanksgiving meeting at St. Marks' Episcopal church Thursday morning. The church was filled to capacity, the pastors of the participating churches being seated on the platform and taking part in the service.

The music was furnished by St. Mark's choir, Mrs. L. W. Bosserman, director, and the Thanksgiving ritual of the Episcopal church was used.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole of the Central Christian churfch preached the Thanksgiving sermon, his theme being, "Some Problems of Thanksgiving This Year." His text was: "But thanks be unto God, who always leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest thru us the savor of his knowledge in every place."—II Cor. 2:14.

Rev. Cole said in substance: With the shadows deepening and lengthening and the end not yet in sight, can we have a Thanksgiving this year? The question has arisen in every mind here, "How can we be thankful in a burning world?" With the conflagration eating its way into additional countries and now almost enveloping the world in its awful flames, with our own beloved land a participant, can we observe the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation? Can we see, even in the midst of sorrow and great peril, in the midst of a world shaken by war and immeasureable disaster; can we see even amidst the darkness that has gathered about us, blessings from God, blessings that are better than mere peace of mind and prosperity of enterprise.

We can, if we think and see with him who today as President, goes to the place of worship believing it is God who always leadeth us in triumph in Christ.

There are three phases or aspects of Thanksgiving that ought to be touched upon this morning. For what can you and I give thanks this year in our national life, for what triumphs in our community, and for what personal blessings?

I. What grounds for thanksgiving have we as a nation in this, perhaps the blackest hour the world has known in many centuries?

I bring you the optimist's message this morning. I want to dissipate despondency, to dispel fear, to increase faith, to set our faces toward the light.

Oh, friends, this year—today—looking backward, looking forward, looking upward, we may have a Thanksgiving song whose rythm is truer, whose lilt is sweeter, whose contents are richer than ever before.

1. We may thank God for the patient work and waiting of the President, who tried to earnestly to avert this war and who gave the signal to fire only when it was certain, in all human foresight, that the bitter cup must be tasted. We shall ever be grateful that not in an hour of excitement we took the step which is irrevocable, but with the deliberation which makes us sure our cause is just. There shall never come a time when we shall hang our heads at the mention of war.

2. For a united nation in this crisis. Oh, there are clouds on the horizon and shadows that reveal a dark presence somewhere, but these are only incidental. The people stand together as never before in our history. Someone has written a book to show that the Civil war made us a people. We shall be more a people now. The 36 tongues will not be a polygot jangle, but in the symphony of a harmonious strain—"My Country, Sweet Land of Liberty."

3. For the aims of the nation and the spirit of the people. We seek no territory, no revenges, but that the world must be made safe for democracy and democracy safe for the world. We seek to secure for all nations and men their God-given rights. Never did holier purpose and passion stir the hearts of any people than those which move in ours in this dark hour. We doubt whether this is even a war for self-defense. We are keeping faith with humanity —we are fighting, we are laying down our lives for our brethren—the race of mankind. "Greater love hath no man than that a man lay down his life for his friends."

4. That the ultimate object with us is a lasting peace. The most powerful personalities of all time are determined that this shall be the last war. This hour in Gethsemane, and the judgment hall of Herod with his bloody heart and supervilious mockery, and Calvary with clouds about it and quakes that rock the world—

TALK ON BIRD LIFE

CLUB MEMBERS HEAR EDUCATIONAL ADDRESS AT TUESDAY AFTERNOON MEETING

Of more than ordinary interest was the "Talk on Bird Life" given before the Tuesday Afternoon club at its regular session November 27th at the Masonic temple by Mrs. F. P. Bicknell, president of the Los Angeles Audubon society and chairman of Bird Conservation, Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs. The educational value of the lecture was enhanced by a number of stereopticon views of birds common to Southern California. The pictures were taken in most instances by Mrs. Bicknell and served to illustrate individual characteristics and habits of life. Professor Moyse very kindly loaned the club the high school lantern for the occasion. It was operated by John Bender and Harold Dewey, high school students.

"Protect the birds as a war measure" was Mrs. Bicknell's plea. Statistics were cited to show that the food out-put of the country would be very materially lessened by the ravages of insect pests unless the indiscriminate destruction of birds was checked, birds being Nature's check upon insect life. Each species has its special office. One cares for the leaves and twigs of the trees, another guards the trunk and limbs from attack; still others hunt upon the ground, seeking their prey beneath the fallen and loose soil. Twenty-nine species of California birds feed upon the destructive black olive scale which is one of our most serious pests. The food destroyed by insects and small rodents would feed the people of Belgium, was one of the statements made. Printed pamphlets on the subject were distributed at the close.

A short business session presided over by the president, Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, opened the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; sectional meetings were announced and other notices read. The president called attention to a change in the revision committee of three appointed by the chair at the last regular session, Mrs. W. E. Evans being unable to serve on account of ill health, Mrs. R. E. Chase was appointed in her stead and Mrs. P. S. McNutt designated as chairman. Mrs. H. E. Bartlett constitutes the third member. The president also asked any one needing the services of a good woman to communicate with Mrs. E. S. McKee, chairman of local relief work, telephone Glendale 1423-J, as she knew of a very deserving person in need of work and willing to do anything.

"I Hear a Thrush at Eve," by Cadman, and "The Wood Pigeon" and "The Owl," by Lehman, selections well suited to the finely cultivated voice of the soloist, were sung as an opening number to the program by Mrs. Robert Yost. Mrs. L. W. Bosserman acted as accompanist and led the audience in singing a patriotic number at the close. A most appreciative audience was present.

THE COAST ARTILLERY BOYS

The Coast Artillery boys made a fine showing in the parade on the school grounds yesterday. Lieutenant Nicoles had reason to be proud of the excellent drill work. A full account will be given in tomorrow's issue of the Evening News.

Mrs. M. L. Smith has returned to the Vert Mont apartments after a two months' visit with her children at Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. J. P. Shropshire of 445 Everett street, and Mrs. E. Quinch of 420 West Fifth street, were the guests on Wednesday of Mrs. E. Pratt of Los Angeles, formerly of Fifth street, Glendale.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Davey, a 7½-pound boy, Thursday, November 29, 1917. Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wells of 328 South Maryland avenue are the grandparents of the new arrival who has been named Richard Beaumont.

Miss Hunt, who has been head nurse at Thornycroft hospital, and Miss Hansen, a nurse at the same institution, left recently for the East, Miss Hansen to make her home in Kansas City and Miss Hunt to take a post graduate course in Chicago.

Capt. Herbert Henning of Camp Kearney spent Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Henning, at 1021 West Seventh street. Dr. and Mrs. Hunt and daughter, Miss Dorothy, were also dinner guests at the Henning home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Farrell, 123 East Broadway, took their turkey and trimmings yesterday and motored to the Temecula ranch on a quail hunt. They returned late last night with plenty of quail and rabbits.

Mrs. Sibley of 1517 Penn street, who has been at Redondo the past month with her daughter, Mrs. James of 1555 West Tenth street, who has been taking special treatments from a Redondo physician, returned Wednesday with Mrs. James. The lady's many friends will be rejoiced to know that she is improving.

Mrs. H. C. Legrand of 1442 West Third street is entertaining her sister, Mrs. R. L. McCain, and nieces, Misses Aida and Louise McCain, of San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis of 205 Lomita avenue entertained Thursday evening at a Thanksgiving dinner, their son Howard M. McGillis and, Maxwell Sheringer, who are members of Co. 9, C. A. C., and Mrs. Sidney Dell of North Glendale.

Wm. N. McMillan and about 20 of his Boy Scouts will go out to the C. W. Dudley ranch at La Canada this evening. They will bunk for the night in one of Mr. Dudley's vacant houses, and in the morning under the command of Scoutmaster Dudley they will start on an all day mountain hike.

Merle J. Eckles, who is stationed at Camp Kearny, came home on sick leave on Friday of last week. He was suffering from an enlarged lymph gland. An operation was performed Wednesday which gave the young man relief and will soon be able to return to camp. Merle is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles of 1124 Viola avenue, Casa Verdugo.

Among the many Thanksgiving dinners given in Glendale was one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flutot, 1512 Oak street. The guests were Mrs. K. LaCom, her granddaughter; Miss Margaret La Com, Miss Blanche Heinmiller, Mr. Ferdinand La Com, of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Levy and two daughters, Dorothy and Margery, from Los Angeles.

Miss Nellie Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rowe of 516 South Orange street, was the honored guest at a surprise birthday dinner given for her at her home by her mother on Tuesday evening. A fine birthday cake with fifteen ilghted candles crowned the pretty dinner. Later in the evening the girls had a jolly time with games and music. Misses Marion Springer, Naomi Platt and Dorothy Howard remained as house guests for the night.

DEATH OF C. C. CHANDLER

A rich, full and complete life was rounded out when Cornelius C. Chandler passed away suddenly on Wednesday, November 28, 1917. Mr. Chandler was born at Concord, N. H., July 13, 1837. He served in the civil war as sergeant of Co. C, 185th N. Y. Volunteers. Since that time he has been a member of Abraham Lincoln post, G. A. R., of Chicago.

From the close of the war until 18 years ago, when he came to Tropico to reside, the deceased was in the contracting business in Chicago. He was a member of Home lodge, No. 508, A. F. & A. M., at the time of his death, having joined in 1876. In 1880 he joined Chicago chapter, R. A. M., and Chevalier Bayard Commandery, No. 52, Knights Templar, belonging to Unity chapter, 116, R. A. M., and Glendale Commandery 53 at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary last New Year's day. He is survived by his widow and six children, thirteen grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. The children are Mrs. Edward B. Ellias, Mrs. Charles L. Peckham, Mrs. Edward H. Weston, Mr. A. L. Chandler, Mr. L. O. Chandler and Mr. C. H. Chandler.

The church, the Masonic fraternity and the G. A. R. will divide honors in conducting the last services in sounding taps for this good man's earthly career. The services will be held at Masonic hall, Glendale, Saturday, December 1, at 2:30 o'clock. Burial at Forest Lawn cemetery.

but beyond is the morning and the resurrection and victory and peace.

The experience has been and is and will be so horrible that we shall never again, we believe, forget the Prince of Peace, nor fail to build our civilization by his words, and example and will. This is the larkest hour, but we thank God for the light already tipping the horizon and for the voices of assurance that come out of the clouds.

5. For our faith in God. The Christian anchor holds. The storm has not blown out the lights in the harbor. As, back yonder in the darkest hours of the early church, when behemoths or power and monsters of iniquity harrowed the Christians with bitterest persecutions and death one of the exiled prophets from his island prison saw above the clouds and the darkness a throne and One seated upon it; so, today, God has not abdicated; Jesus has not forsaken his people. Take heart, "God's in his heaven."

When news of the assassination of Lincoln reached New York 50,000 excited men cried for vengeance. Garfield stepped forward with a small flag in his hand and beckoning the crowd, said, "Fellow citizens, clouds and darkness are round about him! His pavilion is dark waters and thick clouds of the skies! Justice and judgment are the establishment of his throne! Mercy and truth shall go before his face! Fellow citizens, God reigns and the government at Washington still lives!"

6. The bottom fact of it all, as we see it, is that faith in God is not dead, that the church is being reborn in its service and unity, that we shall never be content again with small things, that democracy is again on the march, that despotism is being cast into the fiery furnace, that militarism is on its last legs, and thru the shadow of this awful night the world is sweeping into light. Ah, maybe it will all repay for the terrible cost, and even vindicate the providence and sovereignty of God!

II. Triumphs in our community.

It indeed were a hard and ungrateful heart that arose to greet this day in this wonderful place and this beautiful little city of ours without an expression of thanksgiving. My only fear is that our expression shall be selfish, when there are so many hungry and cold and naked and in prison.

Our achievements should outrun those of others less fortunate in surroundings and gifts.

Unrighteousness and sin in Glendale would be less tolerable than in many other places.

We rejoice in a closer fellowship. In the achievements in commercial and community life. We hail with gratitude the proposal of marriage from our neighboring town.

Christian people thank God for the great revival.

We all praise him that our great metropolis has arisen in her might and struck down her greatest enemy, the saloon.

III. But I want to speak to you heart to heart for a little while about our personal blessings.

After all we can say about the unequal distribution of the good things, the fact remains that the gifts are more equally and fairly distributed than we are ready to acknowledge. Things like diamonds and rubies and autos are not evenly parcelled out, but those are the cheap things of the world. The best and highest are given out with a generosity worthy the hand of a loving father.

Health and happiness. They are not quoted on the markets, but are more valuable than all the commodities of earth. If these are yours, gratitude should flow like a fountain.

Sight and hearing. To be able to look upon the beauties of nature is glorious beyond description. Better work hard in an obscure nook and see than to sit on the throne blind. The singing of birds, the prattle of

LEST WE FORGET THE

Big Piano Drive

WELL, THEY'RE GOING

A LITTLE DOWN AND A LITTLE A MONTH WORKS LIKE WHITE MAGIC

Customers are coming and the stock is going. Many pianos are going out into permanent homes—going with a rush. The Big Drive is a success. It could not be otherwise. It was a go from the start. The magic of our four sworn allies, Good Goods, Little Prices, Little Down and Little-a-Month has grown wings to full size instruments until they fly out of our doors in bunches. There the big truck transports them to the joyous homes which henceforth they are to adorn and bless. By the way haven't you a nice cozy corner waiting to welcome one of our splendid piano bargains?

Think what a happy group awaits the advent of the new piano about to be dedicated in its new home, Thanksgiving time, yes or any old time so it actually arrives on time.

Our Musical 'Bit'

We are truly thankful that we have been able to do our musical bit among our friends and neighbors, thankful that we have had some part in brightening up so many households in and around Glendale on the eve of Thanksgiving day. While each customer has helped us a little we have certainly helped them a lot; so honors are easy.

We have conducted the sale on a fair and square basis, showing equal favors to all. Buyers have found everything exactly as advertised, have made their selections and have not had to haggle their way to bottom prices.

Straightforward methods and genuine bargains have played their part in making the DRIVE a success, resulting in substantial savings to the public. And while our margins are thin as veneers we are satisfied. It shows that Glendale will trade at home if inducements are big enough.

Plenty Snaps Still Here

Inasmuch as quite a number of our very best snaps are still here it is not yet too late for you. Three or four buys that should go right out are: A Baby Grand at about one-third off regular price; A beautiful fumed Oak Player in our show window worth $600 at $390; and a practice piano for $100, worth double that money. Another buy that just escaped is a nice fumed oak at $167.50 and a very beautiful mahogany Cabinet Grand worth about $400 for only $225. That's the way they run. Do you wonder they sell? If the folks could only realize what we have for them down here they would sure clean them all out in a day—and you'd get left. Plan to come in the first hour you can spare and let us help you settle the piano matter so it will stay settled. Call either phone for machine. It will call for you day or night.

children, the murmuring of streams, the melodies of music—God made all these and fashioned an organ to convey them to the soul. What would you take in exchange? "Bless the Lord, O my soul."

Friends. He who has a friend is rich beyond compare. Yet, we take our friends too much as a matter of course—a part of our natural heritage—like the air and the sunshine. We sometimes thank God for them, but we seldom thank them. Oh, yes, we knew they were friends all the time, but we were not reminded of it till it was too late.

The love of parents, the affections of brothers and sisters, the help of teachers, the companionship of good books, the gift of children, the joys of home, the fellowship of the church are ours. Oh, everything that is best is scattered with such a lavish hand, that we don't know how rich we are till we sit down and reckon our treasuse.

Can I be thankful for storms, tears, tribulations and suffering? Yes, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. When I stand right under the cross and look up into the face of the dying Christ and see there the unspeakable love. Then and then only can I have faith to look down in the mysteries of this life, its groanings mixed with its laughter, its tears with its songs, its disappointments with its victories, its births, with deaths, and say, "Most merciful Father, for all these I thank thee."

It's easy for the rich farmer with all the harvest to sit down with his family around him before a 20-pound turkey to be thankful. But can this poor woman, living in two mean rooms of a tenement, waiting the drunken footsteps and doling out the thin soup to the pale-faced, hungry little ones—can she be thankful for everything? Oh, friends, to say, "For these, most gracious Father, we thank thee," and say it from the heart, indicates a sublime vision of God's purpose and Christ's suffering. There are some few saints who can.

Then we say, "I can't complain!" My God, I should say not. Let's never say it again. How much better: "I have everything to be grateful for. God has been very good to me."

Read, Polly Anna. You've heard of old Aunt Jane Smith, who had called on a sick neighbor. She was very fond of moralizing and after the usual condolences and congratulations, she said, "Well, I'll tell you what it is; when we don't feel very good, then we think we are pretty bad off; but when we get worse, then we wish we was as well as we was when we thought we was bad off." Be glad! Thank Him for struggles; thank Him for pain.

Christion, be glad. The religion the Bible promotes is a religion of gladness and joy and thankfulness. The sunless superstitions which cast gloom over the hearts of whole races of men have no place in the religion of hope. Joy is the dominant note of the Bible as it is of a man whose nature has not been disturbed by error, whose life i s spent in blessing others. How wonderful are the possibilities of your Christian life and influence. "Thanks be unto God who always leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh through us the savor of his knowledge in every place."
